SUBJ: Annual Privacy & Security Symposium, Honeywell

1. Since I know Mike Longsworth, I called him to float the idea that you "may possibly be under some sort of contract to an agent for speaking engagements."
2. His reaction was that the best he could hope to do was probably expenses and a $2,000 honorarium.
3. For your information, this is an industry-wide symposium, sponsored by Honeywell. Ed Spencer doesn't even know you are being invited according to Longsworth.
4. I recommend you punt for now. or - but I don't know anything about the topic - almost think I should decline about the topic - almost think I should decline

I agree with Charlie - all of this should be held in Limbo until after Jan
